

PRESS CONFERENCE ON THE OCCASION OF THE PUBLICATION OF THE SECOND VOLUME OF WORKS BY BRANKO MILJKOVIC

November 13th

On the occasion of the publication of the second volume of Collected Works by Branko Miljkovic, entitled Poetry II the City of Nis and the Nis Cultural Center organized an open press conference for the media and the public. Literary and cultural significance, both for Nis and for Serbian culture, of the new edition of the Collected Works by Branko Miljkovic is reflected in the fact that this will be the first edition of the complete opus by Branko Miljković published after 1972. The new edition of the Collected Works by Branko Miljkovic will be published in 6 books, 2 of which have already been published. The works will include the entire poetry of Branko Miljkovic, his translations, literary reviews and essays, as well as the theoretical-critical volume of this documentary material. This extraordinary cultural undertaking was officially started in February 2015, by signing a protocol on the publication of Branko Miljkovic's Collected Works, between the City of Nis, the Faculty of Philosophy, the National Museum, the National Library and the Nis Cultural Center, as an executive publisher.

ARMISTICE DAY

November 13th

Armistice Day is commemorated every year on November 11th to mark the armistice signed between the Allies of World War I and Germany at Compiègne, France, for the cessation of hostilities on the Western Front of World War I, which took effect at eleven o'clock in the morning—the “eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month” of 1918. The date was declared a national holiday in many Allied nations. At the Military Cemetery in Nis, on this occasion, flower wreaths were laid by the city delegation at the gravestone monument at the Serbian part of the cemetery and at the gravestone monument where British soldiers were buried.
