

seminars in the field of creating, managing and formulating local and national politics, public appearances and roles of officials organized by the relevant national and international institutions, both at home and abroad.

He speaks English and has basic knowledge of Greek.
He is married and is the father of a son.